

Stevenson & Co.

717 and 719 Kansas Avenue.

Special Inducements for Saturday.

Save money now by purchasing
HOSIERY while this sale lasts.

5c PAIR

Gent's Seamless $\frac{3}{4}$ Hose, blue and brown mixed, never sold less than 8c pair. Our price on this lot will be—

5c PAIR

15c PAIR

10 Dozen Ladies' Seamless Tan Hose, same quality of Hose sold everywhere for 20c. This lot will go for—

15c PAIR

15c PAIR

10 Dozen Ladies' Black Hose, a splendid bargain, and worth 20c. Sale price—

15c PAIR

25c PAIR

We are going to sell our 35c Hose during this sale 25c pair. This is one of the best bargains that we have ever placed on our counter. Silk finished yarn, spliced sole, heel and toe. Price on this lot—

25c PAIR

5c PAIR

If you want Children's Hosiery here is a cut. A good Seamless Hose, always sold at 15c pair. Our price—

5c PAIR

STEVENSON & CO.

Dry Goods, Carpets and Millinery.

SNAP SHOTS AT HOME NEWS.

Five a secret in my heart, Sweet Marie, A tale I would impart, Sweet Marie, If you would happy be, Do not in money wish to see, Unless the police you see, Sweet Marie.

Nick Childs has returned to town after a visit in Oklahoma.

In a raffle last evening Allie Stewart drew a $75 diamond ring for nineteen cents.

The Modocs have been invited to sing at the G. A. R. reunion at Garnett, August 24.

City Clerk McFadden can add up long columns of figures in astonishingly quick time.

The addition to the Parkhurst building is rapidly approaching its premeditated proportions.

Probate Judge Elliott is a great friend of the mice. They play around his office undisturbed.

Several street railway conductors yell "transportation" as though it were "transportation."

Col. Geo. W. Veale and grand-daughter, Nannie, will return tomorrow from Washington, D.C.

There was joy at the flop exchange when the news of ex-Senator Kelly's flop was duly abstracted.

John P. Archer, father of the triplets born in North Topeka, can congratulate himself that he is a trini-dad.

The pedestrian, as he went to his work this morning, carried his hands in his pockets—to keep them warm.

Z. A. Hughes has been given a permit to make alterations in his house at 531 Top-ka avenue, to cost $1,500.

An Iowa man who is in town today says the corn prospect is much better here than it is in his own state.

A colored sport from Atchison who claims to be a crack base ball player, has struck Topeka looking for a job.

When Santa Fe Superintendent McLellan gets on his helmet hat, he bears a striking resemblance to Stanley, the explorer.

Malcolm Williams, well known in Topeka, is starting at Pope's theater, St. Louis, of which Charles Elliott is the manager.

Governor Lowell is making political speeches in Stanton and Grant counties, where the people never saw a real live governor.

The city dog catcher has been kicked by a horse and will be laid up for a week. Every unlicensed dog in the city celebrated the event last night.

J. W. Stout has refused the principalship of the Oakland school, and instead has accepted a similar position in the Nickel Plate school on Buchanan street.

The latest charge made against the management of the Topeka insane asylum is that Steward John Butler has no bond. It is reported to have expired June 30.

Deputy United States Marshal James Gray returned yesterday afternoon from Arkansas City with John Howell, whom he arrested on the charge of stealing ties from the Santa Fe railroad.

Said the city editor to a reporter yesterday, when the men were raising the big pole in front of the JOURNAL office, "Go out and stand around until that pole falls on you and then come in and write up your sensations."

We are still on top, And expect to remain there, having the largest and finest assortment of woolsens in the state, made up to your order at prices that will surprise you.

ALTHEA & McMANUS, 610 Kas. ave.

Why be a Hand-me-Down Man When Althea & McManus, 610 Kas. ave., can make you a suit to your order at ready made prices?

Sunday Excursion St. Joe and return $1.50. Train leaves 7:20 a. m. via

ROCK ISLAND ROUTE.

Have You Seen Some of the $15.00 suits made to your measure at Althea & McManus, 610 Kansas avenue. The sale is still on.

Sunday Excursion St. Joe and return $1.50. Train leaves 7:20 a. m. via

ROCK ISLAND ROUTE.

Ready Made Suits Ain't in it when you can have them made to your order for $15.00. Full line of trousseings always on hand from $4 and up.

ALTHEA & McMANUS, 610 Kas. ave.

The Sale At Althea & McManus is still on. We are turning out elegant suits at $15.00. Call and look them over.

Sunday Excursion St. Joe and return $1.50. Train leaves 7:20 a. m. via

ROCK ISLAND ROUTE.

The Remedy Stock of goods at Althea & McManus must be reduced. They will go at prices to please the public.

Go out to Garfield park and hear the concert by Marshall's band.

HE SEES THE SHOPMEN

Whaley Talks to Santa Fe Men For the First Time

SINCE THEY TURNED ON THE HOSE.

He Tells Alleged "Inside Facts" Which He Says He Learned Before He Left the Republicans.

The Populist county campaigners are making a strong play for votes in the Santa Fe shops precinct. They held a meeting over in that end of town last night and played their trump card, E. B. Whaley. It was Mr. Whaley's first appearance before an audience of shopmen since they turned the hose on him. The Republicans would as soon have used vinegar to catch flies as Mr. Whaley to make votes in the Santa Fe precinct; but the Populists are sort of vice versa anyhow and go on the "last shall be first" and "a little one shall head them" principles, and Mr. Whaley was right in it.

The meeting was held at the house of Levi Hammond at 1105 East Sixth street. There were some voters present who appeared anxious to hear the leading issues of the day discussed, but they were outnumbered by the bad boys smoking cigarettes, and other children.

H. H. Brown of the Ottawa Journal, who, if he went to as many prayer meetings as he does Pop meetings, would be a regular B. B. Brown, presided. Mr. Whaley was the principal speaker, and after talking about things in general was not long in getting onto the subject of profound secrets of Republican corruption, most of which, he said, he was told by Senator Sterne. He said, in part:

"I believed that with a new outfit of candidates and by weeding out the Bill Higgins the party might get along. But when they put Cy Leland at the head of the central committee I gave up all hope. I have nothing personal against Mr. Leland; it is all political. After the election of 1892, when votes were needed badly, he was asked what Doniphan would do her share towards making up the discrepancy." At the same election when the returns indicated that the Republican ticket was about $500 short. I was asked by Jim Simpson what Shawnee would do. I said, 'I'll give you $100 and I'll shake my head.' I replied that the returns of Shawnee could not be changed.

"I know that the Santa Fe railway furnished money in 1892 to carry the legislative for the Republicans in order to prevent any anti-railroad legislation. I happen to know that $1,000 of Santa Fe money was used in Senator Ed Berry's district alone. George H. Peck was behind the Republican state central committee all the time, and directed the campaign, and poor Jim Simpson, the wheelhorse of the party, had nothing to say about it.

"There was a Republican in the house named Green who runs a wholesale grocery house in Hutchinson. He was elected on the issue that he should get decent freight rates for Wichita and Hutchinson. But Peck patted him on his back and got a lot more Republicans to put him on the back and made him think he would get the nomination in congress in the Seventh district if he would let his bill drop, so he dropped it. The Populists tried to get a maximum freight bill through the house, like the one in Iowa, which Justice Brewer, a railroad judge, has decided since was unconstitutional."

Changing the subject Mr. Whaley continued, "I know one note-shaver in town who told the tax-assessor his property was worth $800, who can draw a check for $30,000 that will be cashed at any bank. I know another money-shark in Topeka who returned his wealth at $500, who shortly after paid $1,400 for a piece of property, which he took out of his private safe and had $30,000 more there."

"A great deal has been said lately about the alleged scandals at the various state charitable institutions. There are some bad men among them, it would be surprising if there were not, but I want to say to you that they are run as well as a new Republican administration could hope to run them. So far as the charges of corruption are concerned they have fallen very flat indeed."

"Sam Gardenhire, the clerk of your district court, is feathering his nest just as his predecessor Bill Stern did. They have both made from $8,000 to $10,000 a year. Those two men put up the scheme by which the Shawnee county circuit court is in existence, which costs the state $10,000 a year. They both had cases pending in which they had fees, and they got the circuit court so they could be sure and get their money more speedily. Now Gardenhire is running for another office before his term is up. What can you expect of such a gang?"

Frank Stevens, candidate for county commissioner, and E. E. Chesney, also made speeches. H. H. Brown in closing the meeting said the Populists intended to hold meetings at the same place frequently during the campaign. He recommended that every one present should read Senator Kelly's letter, published in the JOURNAL, and laid special stress on the fact that the Republican state ticket was composed of two bankers, one teacher and five lawyers, while the Populist candidates for congress are lawyers, but only one of the Populist aspirants in this direction is a lawyer.

THE POLICE ROMANCE.

A Pleasant Home Disturbed Again—A Thief, a Suspect, and some Peddlers.

Officer Capron had an exciting time yesterday afternoon. John Mayweather, colored, had taken unlawful possession of a set of harness that belonged to T. E. Bowman. Mr. Capron caught Mayweather and was bringing him to the station. When in front of Simpson's commission house on the avenue Mayweather broke away, dropped the harness which he had in the sack and made a bold dash for liberty. His bold dash didn't carry him more than three or four blocks before Capron caught him and took him along with a firmer grip than before. He appeared in court this morning and pleaded not guilty. As the case was not quite ready for trial it was postponed till Monday morning.

Omenia White was in court this morning. Omenia hails from Wamego, and is a very innocent youth. He is either very, very smooth or decidedly glib.

He had hardly struck town yesterday when he began to feel the need of a cigarette to quiet his nerves. He began asking for one, and one magnanimous friend whose name he has forgotten gave him a five dollar bill to buy a box of the dude destroyers. When he presented the bill to the lady for the cigarettes he was pained and surprised to discover that it was nothing but a three dollar bill—an advertisement. The valiant police immediately arrested Omenia for trying to pass counterfeit money. Omenia made the matter clear to the judge this morning, however, and was discharged.

The case of Mrs. Kiernan was next called. Mrs. Kiernan lives on east Fourth street and had been rudely accosted the other night by divers parties in a hack. The hackmen whom she had named in the case heard that a warrant was out for them and felt so innocent about it that they came right down and gave themselves up to the police. Ed Travis says he wasn't there because he was sick. Frank Hendricks was also a willing prisoner. Both Mrs. Kiernan and her cousin were in court. But they didn't identify the men on the bench, so the men were discharged. The police are now doing all in their power to bring to justice the guilty persons.

The children will be very indignant to learn that Mr. Scott, the ice cream man, has been arrested for peddling the frozen bliss without having asked the city clerk about it. His case has been continued till Tuesday.

O. F. Stewart is also in trouble for monkeying with the city license law, and his case has been held over till Monday.

Mr. Hingate then slammed the docket book together and went home.

P. E. COOK CORRESPONDS.

He Has a Lengthy Correspondence With Judge Caldwell About Wages.

The day after the lookout at the Santa Fe shops on July 2nd at a mass meeting of A. E. U. in this city, a committee of the laid off men was appointed headed by P. E. Cook, to call on Treasurer Wilder, of the road, and find out when the employees would receive the two month's pay then due them. Mr. Wilder at that time did not know when they would be paid and could not make any promise. Mr. Stewart was instructed to lay the matter before Judge Caldwell, which they did. In due time they received the following answer, dated at Wequeton, Mich., July 17th:

"P. E. Cook, Chairman, Topeka, Kas.:

"DEAR SIR—Your letter in relation to payment of wages due the men has been referred to the receivers, with positive instructions to pay as soon as they can raise the money. You ought to be paid, but recent events have put it out of the power of the receivers to pay anything from the earnings and they will be compelled to borrow money for the purpose of paying wages. Yours truly,

"HENRY C. CALDWELL."

Soon after the receipt of this letter Mr. Cook again wrote to Judge Caldwell under date of the 23d. His letter was as follows:

"DEAR SIR—Your letter in answer to our communication in regard to wages of the Santa Fe employees received, and in reply would like to say: It was no fault of ours that the company did not have the money with which to pay wages. We are locked out without any notice as to the cause and against our wishes, and when our committee called on Treasurer Wilder he gave us no satisfaction as to when we would get it, and did not appear to be concerned as to whether we ever got paid or not."

"Mr. Wilder also stated to us that it was costing the company $40,000 per day to carry on the fight against the strikers. Now it looks to me like asking for bread and being given a stone."

"Since writing the communication referred to in this letter I have been discharged and told that I would never again be employed by the company so long as it was in the hands of the receivers. No reason was assigned for my dismissal. In fact the general foreman in the department in which I was employed told me that they (the officials) asked him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him to bring charges against me. The general foreman says that there was not a thing that he could say detrimental to me as a mechanic or a man, but inasmuch as you have referred my letter to the receivers, therefore, I have reason to believe that there lies the cause of my dismissal. I cannot ask him